

BANDUNG AT 60: NEW INSIGHTS AND EMERGING FORCES

Editor: Darwis Khudori

2015 is the year of the 60th anniversary of the 1955 Bandung Asian-African Conference. Several manifestations of commemoration of this turning point of world history were organised along the year 2014-2015 in diverse countries: China, Ecuador, France, Ghana, Indonesia, Nepal, Netherlands, Tunisia, USA,... Why all these commemorations? What do they reveal? What are their outcomes? This book tries to answer these questions by presenting selected papers coming from those diverse manifestations. The papers are written by eighteen academics from Africa, Asia, Latin America, Europe and USA. They are:

Adams Bodom (Ghana/Austria), Aziz Salmone Fall (Egypte/Senegal/Canada), Beatriz Bissio (Uruguay/Brazil), Darwis Khudori (Indonesia/France), Erebus Wong (China), István Tarrósy (Hungary), Jason E. Strakes (Georgia/USA), Lau Kin Chi (China), Lazare Ki-Zerbo (Burkina Faso/France), Lin Chun (China/UK), Manoranjan Mohanty (India), Mérick Freedy Alagbe (Benin/France), Naoko Shimazu (Japan/UK), Noha Khalaf (Palestine/France), Seema Mehra Parihar (India), Sit Tsui (China), Trikurnianti (Yanti) Kusumanto (Indonesia/Netherlands), Wen Tiejun (China)

This publication is possible thanks to the cooperation of the following publisher and co-publishers: PUSTAKA PELAJAR, Indonesia; ARENA (Asian Regional Exchange for New Alternatives); CIRFA (Centre Internationaliste Ryerson Fondation Aubin), Canada; CODESRIA (Council for the Development of Social Science Research in Africa); GLOBAL U (Global University for Sustainability)

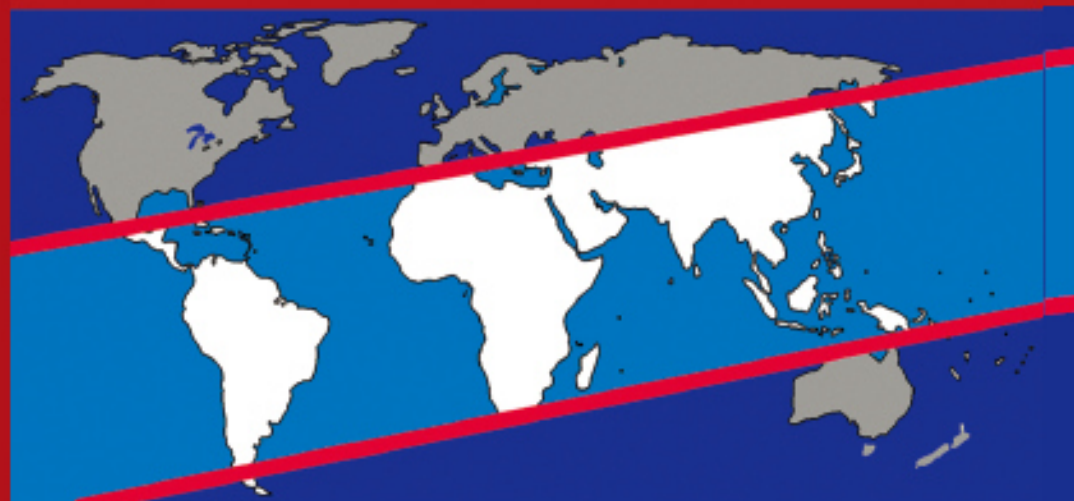

PUSTAKA PELAJAR
Pusat Studi Postaka Pelajar
Dakotan Timur LH 10144
Tegayeharta 05192
E-mail : pustaka.pelajar@gmail.com

BANDUNG AT 60: NEW INSIGHTS AND EMERGING FORCES

Editor: Darwis Khudori

Editor: Darwis Khudori

BANDUNG AT 60: NEW INSIGHTS AND EMERGING FORCES

INTRODUCTION

Darwis Khudori, Bandung Conference and its Constellation — pp. vii-xxv

HISTORY

Darwis Khudori, Bandung Conference: the Fundamental Books — pp. 3-33

Naoko Shimazu, Women Performing “Diplomacy” at the Bandung Conference of 1955 — pp. 34-49

GLOBAL CHALLENGES

Manoranjan Mohanty, Bandung, Panchsheel and Global Swaraj — pp. 53-74

Noha Khalaf, Thinking Global: Challenge FOR Palestine — pp. 75-97

INTERNATIONAL RELATIONS

Adams Bodomo, Africa-Asia relations: How Bandung redefined area and international studies — pp. 101-119

Lazare Ki-zerbo, The International experience South Group Network (ISGN): lessons and perspectives post-2015 — pp. 120-138

István Tarrósy, Bandung in an Interpolar Context: What ‘Common Denominators’ Can the New Asian-African Strategic Partnership Offer? — pp. 139-148

Méric Freedy Alagbe, In search of international order: From Bandung to Beijing, the contribution of Afro-Asian nations — pp. 149-160

Jason E. Strakes, The Former Soviet South and the Global South: Bandung Spirit as a Path Between Hegemonies? — pp. 161-172

EMERGING MOVEMENTS

Seema Mehra Parihar, Scripting the Change: Bandung+60 engaging with the Gender Question and Gendered Spaces — pp. 175-193

Trikurnianti Kusumanto, More than food alone: Food Security in the South and Global Environmental Change — pp. 194-206

EMERGING COUNTRIES

Beatriz Bissio, Bandung-Non Alignment-BRICS: A Journey of the Bandung Spirit — pp. 209-215

Tulus T.H. Tambunan and Ida Busnetty, Two Big Economic Crises: The Indonesian Experience and Lessons Learned for Other Asian-African Developing Countries — pp. 216-233

Sit Tsui, Erebus Wong, Wen Tiejun, Lau Kin Chi, Comparative Study on Seven Emerging Developing Countries: Brazil, China, India, Indonesia, South Africa, Turkey, Venezuela — pp. 234-257

EMERGING CONCERNS

Lin Chun, Toward a new moral economy: rethinking land reform in China and India — pp. 261-286

Lau Kin Chi, Taking Subaltern and Ecological Perspectives on Sustainability in China — pp. 287-304

CLOSING REMARK

Aziz Salmone Fall, Towards a new Movement: Aligned Trans-Internationalism — pp. 307-317